Secure Speech Environments

Protect sensitive information and discussions in a specially-designed, fully secure area within your own premises

The threat of important information being compromised is greater than ever before as technical intelligence-gathering capabilities rapidly evolve. As the UK National Authority for Counter-Eavesdropping (UK NACE) we can help you protect against this and ensure the integrity of your most confidential and sensitive information by creating a bespoke area for secure speech whether face to face, on the telephone or through video conferencing.

Secure Speech Environments

About UK NACE

UK NACE has more than 65 years of experience in detecting and protecting against technical espionage attacks. Working in the most hostile environments across the world, UK NACE operates at the forefront of technology and works alongside other global leaders in electronic counter-espionage. Its research and development into security solutions to counter technical eavesdropping attacks is also helping to ensure information remains secure and protected globally.

Features and benefits

Each installation is designed to protect against both technical and acoustic attack and intrusion and will be uniquely created to your requirements. Features will include:

A screened enclosure

Self-supporting within your existing premises, the secure speech environment can be created as a private yet comfortable office style working environment complete with air conditioning, power and full ICT connectivity. This is important as some of your most important meetings, conversations and tasks will take place inside it.

A secure conference room

A room-within-a-room, this is an acoustically protected working area for sensitive discussions that can be further protected by secure access control when required. Built with air ventilation, a power and telephone outlet and including hard-wearing carpet tiles and curtains for extra privacy if needed, the room is visually impressive enough to double as a regular conference room or office space when not required for secure speech.

Secure telephone and video conferencing facilities

As with the secure conference room, we can provide you with a high level of assurance of secure communications when using any secure telephone or video conferencing system

Your service from FCO Services

Our security cleared staff provide an end-to-end service that is fully secure from point of design through to delivery and installation.

We can also provide extensive training on operating the secure speech environment so that you can make the most of all its features and benefits.
