Government Security Advisory Team

Take the decisions on security that are right for your organisation with the support of our network of experienced, highly qualified security advisors

Identifying the risks to and vulnerabilities of your organisation from ever-evolving security threats is a continual challenge. To help customers stay ahead of this, FCO Services has created a bespoke Government Security Advisory Team (GSAT) with knowledge and experience of security at all levels and disciplines to help you understand what proven mitigation options are able to counter these threats and their potential impact.

Features of the Government Security Advisory Team's service

- Experience from across the security landscape: government, diplomatic, military and private sector.
- Expertise in physical, construction, buildings, logistics, communications, technical, speech and information security.
- A deep understanding of the dependencies and issues impacting on security in your organisation.
- Specialists in interpreting and applying Cabinet Office, CPNI, CESG and UK NACE guidelines, standards and best practice in the UK and overseas.
- Security reviews, surveys and audits with recommendations tailored to your exact needs and specific circumstances.
- A made-to-measure offer that can comprise any combination of advice, design, implementation, supply, quality assurance, monitoring, maintenance and project management across estates, logistics, perimeters, protective security, IT, cyber, counter eavesdropping and counter surveillance, vetting and behaviour analytics.
- The team are security cleared and belong to professional bodies.

Your service from FCO Services

FCO Services are experts in government security on a global scale. The GSAT service will assess your environment, listen to your concerns and understand the issues impacting on them, and translate these into a practical, pragmatic approach to security advice.

This can range from education, awareness and mentoring through to tactical approaches and bespoke projects or programmes up to design and implementation of strategic security policy.

Our recommendations are cost effective to meet your needs as well as your budget, providing all the benefits of our worldwide government security experience. Your GSAT team will support you throughout the installation or deployment of any measures and afterwards, to ensure your approach to security stays current and you remain appropriately protected against risks and threats.
